Pep Club sponsors well-attended dance

"Holding on to Yesterday" themed the Homecoming dance held on October 18. Throughout the week, students showed their spirit by dressing in various outfits. Monday was clash day; Tuesday, hippie day; Wednesday, cowboy day; Thursday, sock it to me day; and Friday, fifties day. Although spirit could be seen throughout the school, juniors were awarded the spirit stick for their outstanding participation.

Queen candidates for the dance were Kim Fluegge, Nicki Byers, and Fran Jaeger. King candidates were Kelly Green, Glenn Ford, and Bill Roulston. Kim Fluegge and Glenn Ford were finally selected as royalty.

"Charley's Aunt" was chosen as fall play and presented on Nov. 12, 13, and 14 in the Little Theatre. Mr. Pat Poulin directed the farce, which drew enthusiastic responses from audiences who viewed it.

The story is about Jack Chesney and Charles Wykeham, in love with two ladies, Kitty Verdun and Amy Spettigue. To impress these young ladies, the two men invite the girls to their rooms for a luncheon to meet Charley's Aunt from Brazil.

The millionaire aunt, however, cancels her visit at the last minute. Jack and Charles, eager to declare their feelings and create a favorable impression, force another Oxford undergraduate, Lord Babberley, to impersonate Charley's Aunt.

Soon the real aunt arrives with her companion, Ela Delahay, and assumes another name so as not to expose the men's scheme. All ends happily as Lord Babberley, posing as the aunt, gets Mr. Spettigue to agree to Kitty and Jack's marriage while Charley wins Amy. Lord Babberley returns to his normal self and wins his former sweetheart, Ela Delahay.

Four weeks were spent preparing "Charley's Aunt," based on the play by Brandon Thomas. All ran smoothly until a week before the opening. Matt Scofield, who played Brassett, came down with laryngitis. Fearing his voice wouldn't return, Scott Leonard, as understudy, was called in. Matt, however, did regain his voice, and the play was performed as scheduled.

Sets were built by Kyle McLachlan, Rodger Scheibner, Doug Spearman, Bambi Ables, Matt Scofield, Lori Stephens, Cyndi Poulin and Steve Lieb. Stage Crew was Doug Spearman, Randi Morrell, and Vicki Alford.

"Saturday in the Park," theme of Winter Tolo, took place on November 15. In hopes of raising some badly needed money, the Reveille staff sponsored the dance and worked hard to make Tolo a success. Cyndi Peterson and Susan Eckenbom, co-chairpersons, crowned Stu Thomas king and Betsy Seabury queen.

The Reveille devised a new system of choosing royalty. Names of all senior couples attending were put on their tickets and placed in a hat. When time came to announce king and queen, a ticket was drawn from the hat, and the lucky couple became Tolo royalty.

Yakima Parks Dept., loaned red, yellow, and blue park picnic tables to set the scene for "Saturday in the Park." Music was supplied by "Colours," who kept the dance alive with spirited music.

Cookies, punch and other goodies were served courtesy of the Reveille staff.

"Just An Old Fashioned Love Song" was selected as theme for the annual Midwinter dance held on the evening of January 25, 1976. Sponsored by Five Star Journal, this year's dance was held in the cafeteria.

Music was provided by Dame, a four-member rock band.

Royalty was chosen from a random drawing of all senior couples attending the dance. Crowned for the position of Midwinter Queen was Kristi Nelson and Mike Fahsholtz, King.

Two hundred fifty couples attended the dance, decorated in blue and white. Chairperson for the dance was Paulette George. The Masters of Ceremonies were Andrew Evanger and Paulette George.

Cadet Choir successfully

"OKLAHOMA", popular musical by Rodgers and Hammerstein, was presented in the Little Theater on March 17 through the 20.

Under the direction of Mr. Gary Baisinger and Mr. Patrick Poulin, the cast and crew worked three long months to get this production under way. This was the eleventh school musical put on by the choir and the first directing job for Mr. Baisinger.

Father-Daughter Dance raises money

The second annual Father-Daughter Dance was held March 6, 1976. The dance was a fund-raising project for Ike High Steppers Drill Team.

The KQOT Music Machine provided the tunes, and cookies were displayed beautifully for refreshments. Decorations were red and white checkered table cloths and dried weed arrangements in burlap baskets.

Photos were by Baumgardners; and the backdrop was a man-sized heart with stuffed toys arranged on the floor.

"It was terrific!" enthused Jean Coppers, a junior, in response to how she felt about the Father-Daughter Dance. Gerri Stratton added, "My dad and I haven't ever had more fun." This activity enables fathers to converse with their daughters in a very romantic atmosphere.

Vivid oranges, yellows and greens striping the cafeteria walls carried out Drill Team's Spring Tolo theme of "Sunshine, Lollipops, and Rainbows." Killer Bees provided music for the affair on April 24.

In keeping with Spring Tolo tradition, a game room was set up in the west foyer. Weary dancers could take time out to play cards, checkers, ping pong, or twister, and, for the young at heart, a hula hoop was provided.

"Starlite on Broadway" theme effectively

It took many hours of planning, decorating, and worrying, but the final result of all the Junior Classes' work was a very successful 1976 Junior-Senior Prom. Themed "Starlite on Broadway", the dance was held on May 15, 8:30 through 11:30, at the Masonic Temple.

Twinkling stars and a nighttime city background created a feeling of Broadway elegance. Music provided by Orpheus, a band out of Spokane, was of enormous success, with style and sound seldomly found in area bands. Intermission entertainment featured the duet of Kyle McLaughlin and Jim Lundblad.

Roses were awarded to most honored senior girl Nicki Byers, while a kiss from Nicki was most honored senior boy Glenn Ford's prize.

Hard working juniors, under the supervision of advisor Jim Connor, were rewarded for their efforts by a smooth-running dance with no problems.

Cross Country finishes fifth in league

Ending 5th in league, Cross Country also placed 3rd in district. This was achieved by beating Richland, a feat which was never done by an Ike team. The team was mostly comprised of strong sophomores and juniors and five seniors.

Julie Byers was the only girl on the team. Coach White stated, "If we could get more girls like Julie out, the '76 Cross Country team would be strong and enthusiastic." Julie placed seventh in district and 52nd out of 240 at state.

Those who were award winners were; co-captains Bill Roulston and Gary Cloud; Inspirational, Joe Lorance; Scholastic, Scott Wonder and Most Points, Gary Cloud.

Senior girls win exciting

Powder puff football excited crowds October 17 in the epic clash of junior and senior women.

The only concession made to femininity was the smaller. 70-yard field. The goal lines were set at the 15 yard lines.

Officials for the game were Mr. Ken Bongers, Jay Templin, and Miss Carol Finney, powder puff football advisor.

Cheerleaders for the game were juniors, Andy Hefflinger, John Rivard, Scott Lewis and seniors, Mike Roether, Roger Coburn and Ron Weingarten. Cheerleaders wore their rather bizarre outfits all day in the same manner as regular cheerleaders would have.

Seniors took the opening kick off. A few plays later, senior Lorene Thaxton took the play in for a touchdown. The extra point attempt was foiled by the fighting junior team.

A short time later, seniors again regained possession. Senior Julie Lemke took a pass from quarterback Cyndi Peterson. Julie ran it 70 yards for the second senior touchdown. At the end of the first quarter, hard fighting juniors were trailing the dominating seniors 12 to 0.

In the second quarter the ball was returned to seniors. With 44 seconds left in the second quarter, Terri Riley made another senior touchdown to make the score 18 to 0.

Because of several junior penalties, seniors were given three attempts at the extra point. Each time they failed.

In the third and fourth quarters juniors and seniors battled back and fourth but failed to make any more scores, giving the seniors an exciting 18 to 0 win. Juniors have next year's game for revenge.

Though hard hit by graduation, Cadets

Varsity football was hard hit by last year's graduation. Five all-conference performers were missing as football began in mid-August.

A new system was instituted by coach Ellis. Instead of the conventional varsity, junior varsity, and sophomore squads; the Cadets were divided into Red, Blue, and White units. The new system was created in hopes of developing a feeling of team togetherness and unity.

Cadets did have good experience at several key positions; those included running back, defensive back and offensive line. As for the season itself, Cadets at times were outstanding and at other times did less than expected.

In the second game of the season against Kennewick, Cadets displayed tenacious defense in a 40-0 shutout of the outmanned Lion gridders.

Other team highlights of the season included a tough win over Queen Anne of Seattle and a last-second victory over Walla Walla.

Cadets eighth game of the year was a high-scoring affair in Moses Lake. Ready for the challenge, the Cadets were able to defeat the Chieftans on a tie-breaker. The season unfortunately ended on a sour note, losing a heartbreaker to the archrival Davis Pirates.

Though the Red squad finished the season with a sub-par 4-6 record, high hopes are held for coming years. The Ike Blue team won the Big Nine championship and the White squad lost only three games all season.

With this type of talent coming up, hopes for the future are indeed bright.

Volleyball record improves

Season's close found Eisenhower's girls' volleyball team greatly improved over last year's with a five-win, four-loss record. Members found hopes crushed for a trip to district playoffs, however, when they lost their last game against Sunnyside on October 30.

The team, under the coaching of Mrs. Nellie Wagner, marked up its most encouraging win in a practice game against the White Swan Cougars. According to Coach Wagner, the girls came out on top of the Cougars in their November 7 game because, she enthused, "They put it together."

Varsity players Mary Vandiver, Tina Stauffacher, Nicki Byers, and Colleen Huck contributed their outstanding bumping and spiking abilities. Especially talented setters included Barbara Wane and Cassie Stuhr. Colleen Huck, averaging a fantastic 7.2 points per game, was the most consistent server with a season total of 65 points.

Girls' basketball finished the season with a 4-8 record. The girls chalked up their first win of the season in a game against Prosser. Eisenhower dominated Prosser throughout the game and won by a margin of 47 points. The final score was 67-20. The high scorer was Barb Wane with a total of 18 points.

To top off the season, the girls challenged the women's faculty to an after-school game. The student body had the opportunity to attend this entertaining battle between Ike's most talented woman cagers.

The winter sports banquet was held at the conclusion of the season. On this occasion several awards were presented. Patti Eshenko received the captain award. Mary Vandiver was presented the scholastic award. Wendy Hill earned the award for most improved player. Sue Eckenbom was named the most inspirational player.

Leading Cadets thru '75-'76 basketball

The Cadet basketball season for 1975-76 marked the beginning of a new era in roundball. After fourteen years as head coach, Mr. Keith Farnam retired. He was replaced by Mr. Ed Aho.

Coach Aho came to Eisenhower from Mercer Island High School, where he coached junior varsity basketball for five seasons and was highly respected and successful. Eisenhower was very fortunate to have been able to hire Mr. Aho. The faculty and student body had high hopes for the newly uniformed Cadets and their new coach, but unfortunately the team was able to win only five games.

Though the Cadet season didn't produce many victories, there were several individuals who were honored for their performances at the winter sports banquet. Varsity basketball team winners were rebounding and team captain Mike Williamson, scholastic and inspirational Ron Hanson, and free-throw percentage Tim Farley.

Close games and heartbreaking losses

The Cadets opened the season with four pre-league encounters against double A competition. Ike won only one with Selah 60-45, but lost two games, 56-57 to West Valley and in overtime dropped a 49-56 decision at Wapato. Eisenhower started league play in Kennewick with the Lions and held off a rally to win 66-60. After losing to the tall Wenatchee Panthers at home, the Cadets traveled to Walla Walla and lost on a shot with two seconds remaining in overtime 60-62.

In Eisenhower's fourth league encounter, stubborn Cadets almost pulled the upset of the year, but, as if snake bitten, fell to the perennial state power Bombers from Richland. Though losing their next two games, Cadets put together two victories in a row, 59-57 with Kamiakin and 59-43 at home against Kennewick. The last seven games Ike played hard, yet was unable to pull a victory in their remaining conference games. The outlook for next year's team is bright with three starters returning.

Terry McKenna won 26 matches, including the district and regional championships, with no losses to become the 129 pound state champion. McKenna set a school record by scoring 81 team points during the season. His 166 individual points to his opponents 26, also set a school record. Terry broke Kennedy's mark of 20 takedowns with 25 to add a third school record to his name.

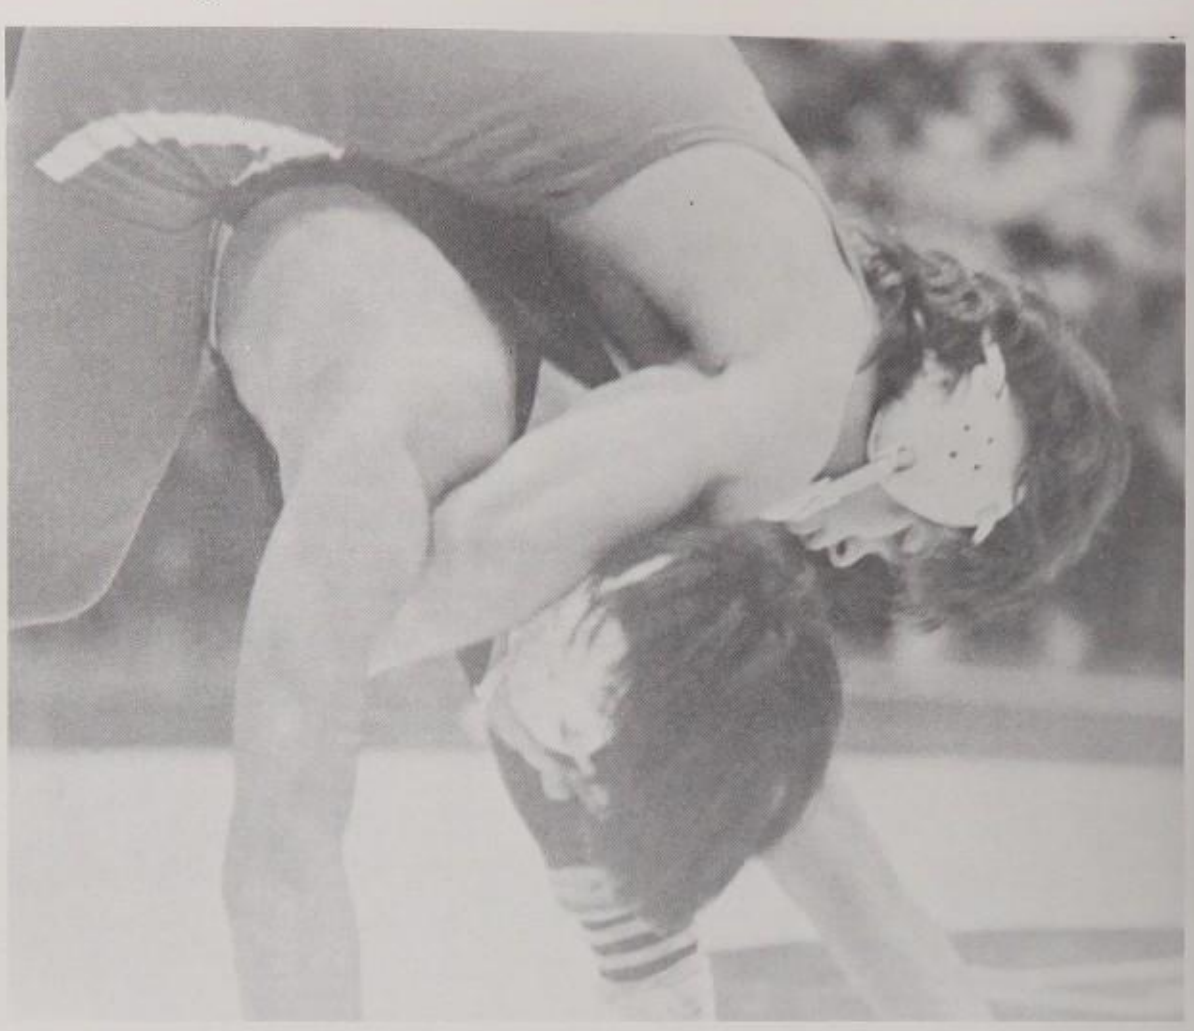
The varsity wrestlers, including many who wrestled for the team two years ago tying for first place in the Big Nine League, sat all alone at the top of the league this year with 8 league wins and no losses. They then proved their superiority at the district tournament by taking first place for the first time in 11 years. During the season, the team scored a total of 603 points, compared to only 297 scored by their opponents. This might powered the varsity team to a 17 win, 1 loss season. The only loss was to Sunnyside two days after an emotional victory over the always tough Moses Lake.

The team was represented by four wrestlers at the state tournament, and placed sixth, the best showing at state in 11 years. Along with McKenna, the team was represented by Mike Garrison, who placed second, Brian Gifford, and Tom Kennedy.

Garrison had a 15 and 1 season record. Mike also placed second at district and second at regionals, before placing second in the 190 pound weight class at the state tournament in Tacoma.

Gifford won 10 matches and lost none before being sidelined with a knee injury. After surgery, Brian was able to return just in time for the tournaments. He placed third at district and third at regionals to earn a berth at state.

Kennedy had a 15 and 1 season record. Tom placed first at district and fourth at regional to earn his berth at state.



Terry "Mean" McKenna, who was selected by his team mates to receive the team's Inspirational Award, controls his opponent with a blanket ride during one of his 16 season wins.

Ike #1 Girl's Bowling Team take 1st

The girl's #1 bowling team made a fine showing, taking first in city league with 58 wins, 6 losses, and fourth in state. Members of Girl's #1 team are: Cindy Hart, Cindy Peterson, Thelma Caldwell, Dana Fram, and Cathy Peterson.

The only boys team representing Ike took third place in city league with 44 wins, 20 losses. All teams were under the supervision and instruction of Mr. Jim Bryant.

The bowling teams had matches on Wednesdays and practices on Mondays, at Nob Hill Lanes. Members of the girl's #2 are; Linda Kreisel, Maurina Gilstrap, Anita Guest, Debbie Hoff, Tina Stauffacher, Shirley Roby.

High averages were: Cindy Hart, 152; Greg Anderson, 174; high game: Cindy Peterson, 246; high series: Stacy Dwarshius, 693, and Cindy Peterson, 623.

Although they are not completely a U.S.E. sponsored organization, the U.S.E. bought their bowling shirts. Because they do a good job representing Eisenhower, they will soon become a U.S.E.-sponsored organization.

After coaching Cadet baseball for six

The '76 baseball season marked the last season of coached Cadet baseball for Mr. Ron Dihel. Mr. Dihel had been at the helm of Ike for the last six years. Dihel-led teams have compiled a record of 108-60. His teams won the Big Nine Championship in 1974 and had their next-best finish in 1972 with a second. The team of 1974 eventually lost in the regional finals.

The '75 Cadet baseball season wasn't overly successful in terms of win-lose record, but there were several highlights. The Cadets opened the season with six non-league games against competition from the western part of the state. Defending state triple "A" champion Shorecrest were entertained by the Cadets and the Cadets split with the tough team from Seattle. Next the Cadets went to Kennewick for the Kennewick Inviational. The Cadets played well and finished second to Richland. In league play the Cadets had a record of 4-10.

Junior varsity play was highlighted by two close losses to rival Davis 2-3 and 1-2. The J.V. schedule was made as tough as possible in hopes of better preparing members for latter varsity play.

At the annual spring sports desert several varsity baseballers were commended for their achievements during the season. Award winners were: Team captain, Rick Blank; Inspirational, Tom Norstadt: Schlastic Doug Moore.

Competitive girls track finishes Big

The 29 member team attended several Invitationals. At the Yakima Inv., they took first out of 9 teams; at the Selah Inv., they placed 2nd out of 7 teams; and out of 15 teams, the girls placed 4th at Wenatchee.

At District AAA track and field meet, Eisenhower took first place out of 9 teams. In three different events, the girls took 1st place. Julie Byers 440; Byers, Wane, Fund, and Clausen 880 relay; and Mary Vandiver in the discus.

Six girls were eligible for state in six events. Clausen, 220; Byers, 440; Byers, Wane, Fund, and Clausen, 880 relay; Halverson, high jump; and Vandiver, shot and Discus.

A number of school records were set. Mary Vandiver broke her own school record in the shot, 39', and discus, 125' 1.2'. Paula Fund, 80 yd. hurdles, 11.2; Julie Byers, 440, 61.0; Capri Clausen, 220, 26.3; Clausen, Strong, Wane, Fund, Clausen 880 relay, 1:46.8; Byers, Harrington, Manley, Chase, mile relay, 4:18.8.

New rubberized-asphalt track makes

Head Coach Lee White, along with Coach Doug Kavanaugh, directed the Eisenhower Boys' Track team to second place in the Big Nine, losing only once to Walla-Walla. The track team won the West Valley Invitational, the Davis Invitational, the Eisenhower Invitational, and placed first in Sub-District. They took second in District and tied for fifth at State.

Several school records were broken. Bill Roulston set a new triple jump record of 44' 6½". Tom Ross threw the javelin a record 211' 7". A record for the discus of 173' 4" was set by Mike Garrison. Andy Svendsen jumped a record height of 6' 9½", and Ken Watson, Glenn Ford, Rex Young, and Kelly Greene teamed up for a new school record of 3 minutes 24.3 seconds for the mile relay.

An all-weather rubberized-asphalt track was installed during the fall. Old tires were gathered from all over the state and ground up as composition material for the track. The track is expected to last ten years before a new repaving job is done. This track now makes Eisenhower eligible for a state meet; the cost of the track was a little less than $30,000.

Bill Rouston and Glenn Ford were named co-captains. Bill Roulston won the most points trophy. Jim Squires won the Scholastic trophy. Head Coach Lee White is looking ahead for a very good team next year.

Whiteside sixth in state singles;

Eisenhower sophomore Brian Whiteside finished sixth at the state tournament, while the senior team of Mike Doty and Mike McGuinness finished in the same position in the doubles competition. Both Ike entries dropped earlier matches and worked their ways up in the consolation bracket.

The boy's team continued its dual-meet win streak, and took a first at both the Big Nine and district levels. Whiteside finished first in district and singles, Doty and McGuinness first in doubles at district, thus qualifying for state.

Ike Cadet girls, led by Lisa McGuinness, also finished first in the Big Nine, although they had to share that honor with Pasco's Bulldogs. Unfortunately, the best the girls could do at district was a disappointing fifth. Therefore, the girls qualified no one for state.

Medalist Mike Hammermeister led

Mike Hammermeister carded 76 at Yakima Elks 69 at Yakima Country Club, for a 36-hole total to win medalist honors.

The team grabbed State AAA title with a 36-hole total of 609. Other scores for Ike were Scott Bullek 87-76-154, Dee Harris 78-76-154, Allen Lacey 75-84-159, and Jim Thomas 78-81-159.

Varsity placed first at Big Nine District Tournament in Wenatchee. Bullek took medalist honors, beating teammate Hammermeister by one stroke.

Varsity played four invitational tournaments, winning two. In Kennewick, the team placed third. In the Inland Empire Inv., a scorecard error cost 15 strokes, dropping the team to second; Hammermeister won medalist. The team took both the Yakima and Wenatchee Invitationals, Bullek Yakima medalist.

Stroking to an 18-0 league record, the team compiled the only undefeated record in Big Nine's golf history.

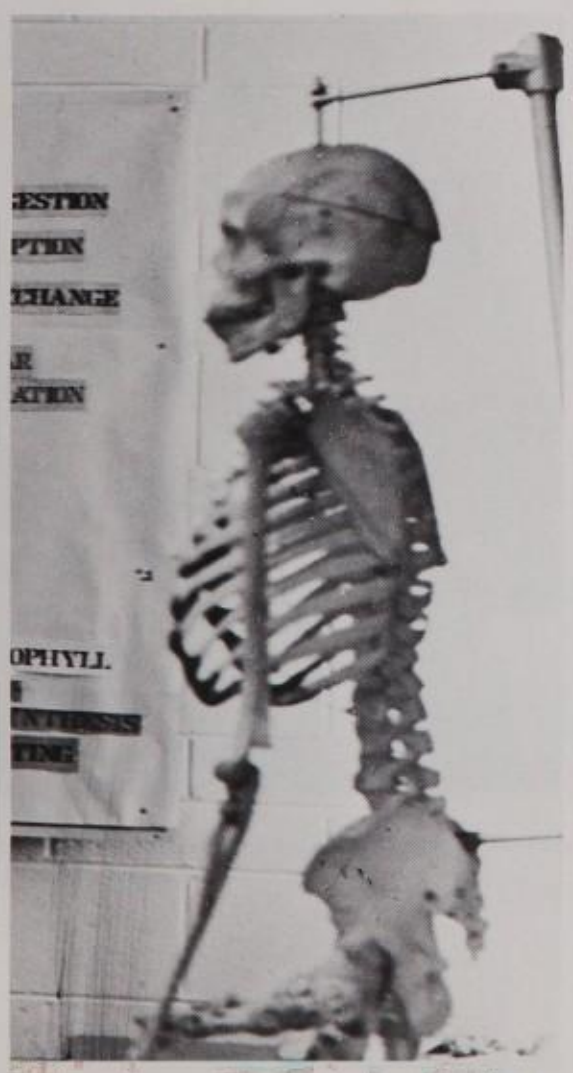
ACADEMICS



Mrs. Ruth Hessey completes

"Mrs. Hessey is excellent, just simply excellent," commented Jim Thompson, a junior at Eisenhower. Mrs. Ruth Hessey serves as secretary to Mr. Hurst and the counselors of Ike. Mrs. Hessey is in charge of maintaining student records, and she also helps with the many tasks that are covered through the counseling area. Mrs. Hessey has been at Eisenhower for 11 years and in that time she has made many friends. Ike junior, Dave Curtis, declared, "I've never seen her in a bad mood; she's always happy."

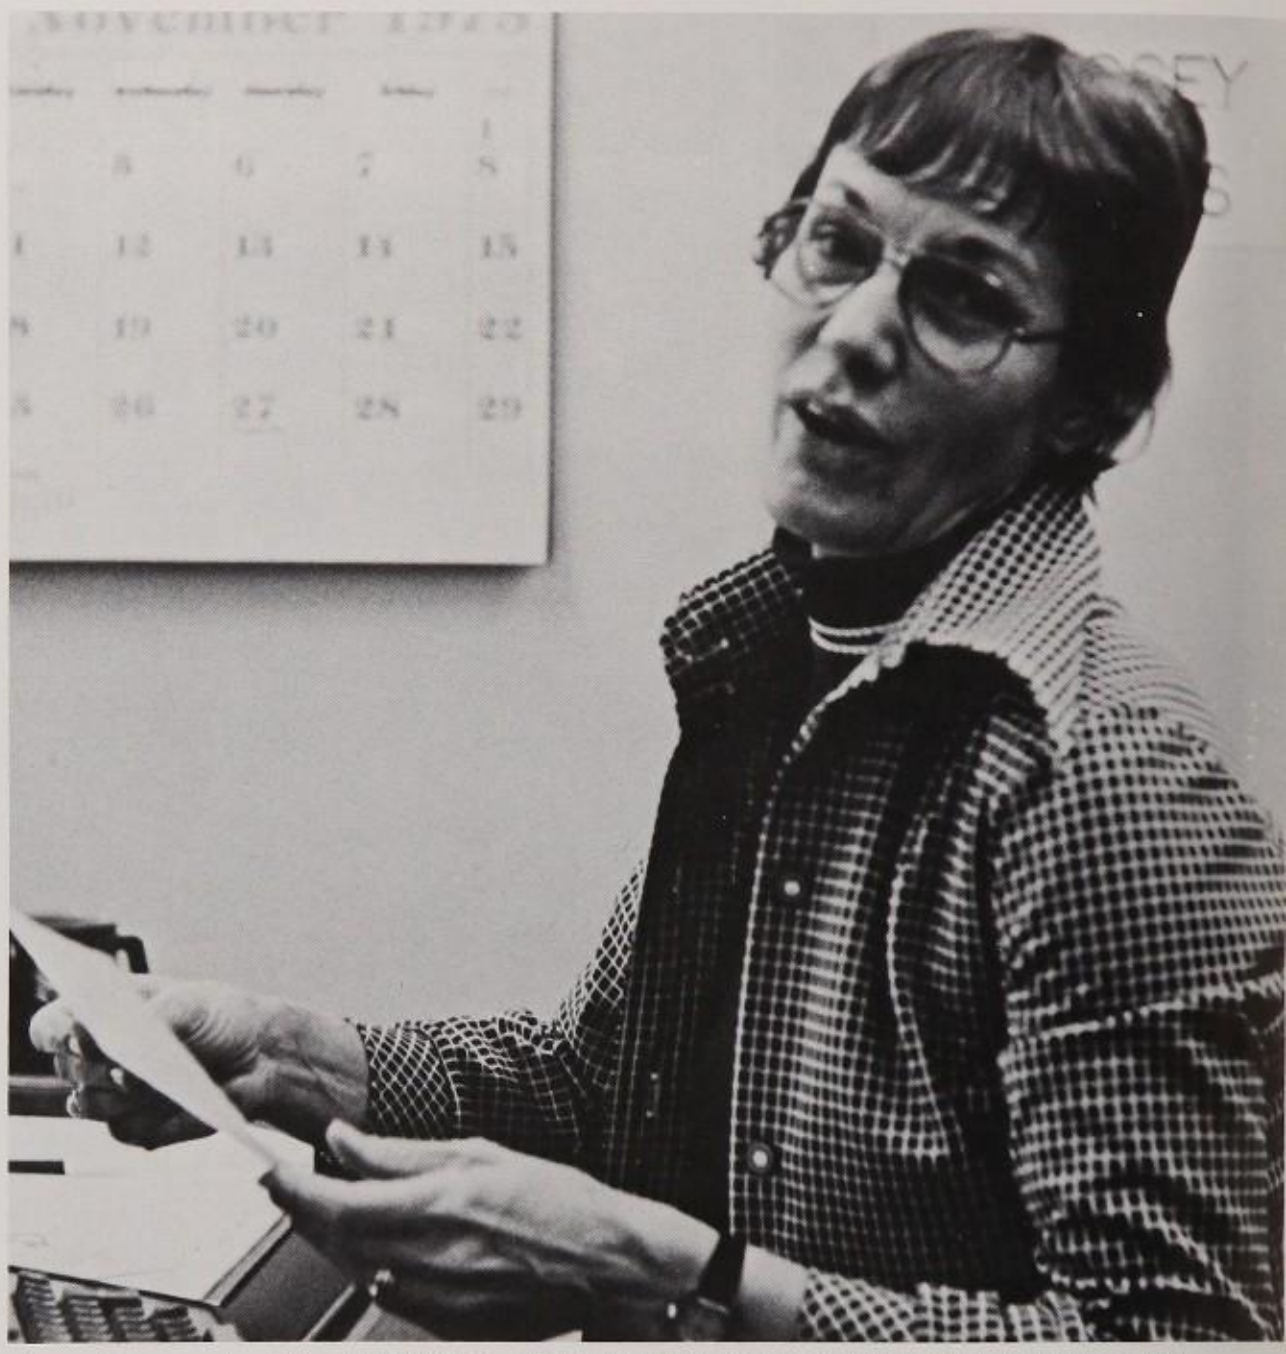
The attendance secretary at Ike is Mrs. Mary Finley. She not only maintains the attendance office, but she also records the attendance and checks out students who are ill and need to go home.

"She's always busy and helpful," commented junior Teresa Rhea about Mrs. Dorothy Barton. Mrs. Barton serves as the library secretary. She does filing, cataloging, and all other clerical jobs around the library.

Mrs. Delores St. George is Mr. Bontrager's secretary. Mrs. St. George, who came to Eisenhower during spring trimester last year, maintains the main office and all work through that area. She also serves the teachers of Ike in their many requests.

Mrs. Chris Sedge is an office aide at Eisenhower. She serves in the main office and does any task which needs her help. Mrs. Sedge types for teachers and helps supervise office help in duplicating materials sent to the office.

Ike's bookkeeper and secretary to Mr. Nicholas is Mrs. Carol O'Halloran. Mrs. O'Halloran keeps all school accounts and monies. She also works with Mr. Nicholas on school activities and duties through the activity office.



Counseling secretary Mrs. Ruth Hessey contemplates the matter at hand while continuing with her heavy schedule of duties.

her eleventh busy year at Eisenhower

New attendance policy at Eisenhower keeps Mrs. Mary Finley very busy.

Typing the daily office material is Mrs. Delores St. George.

Mrs. Dorothy Barton organizes incoming library material daily in temporary library quarters.

Mrs. Carol O'Halloran enjoys break in budgeting duties; senior Becky Waldbauer does bookkeeping in background.

After careful consideration, the a la carte line was reopened this year, bringing with it many added responsibilities. It featured popular items like hamburgers, soup, sandwiches, french fries, and many others for hungry students.

Head cook Irene Hessler and cooks Jeanette Chapman, Iris Johnson, Peggy Lewis, Sandra Pool, and Vivian Russell prepared lunches inspired by the school lunch menu, for Whitney Elementary and Wilson Jr. High Schools, as well as Eisenhower.

With expanded lunch provisions, the litter problem also increased. Without the industrial maintenance performance of Ike's dependable custodians, this problem would have gotten entirely out of hand.

Along with many other important duties, head custodian Don Bolm and his assistants Wendell Breeding, Floyd Converse, Lee Keeler, Bill McCullough, Jessie Macias and Paul Pratt kept matters well under control.

Lunchtime refuse is deposited into the Eichler Disposal bin by custodian Lee Keeler, to help restore cleanliness to the cafeteria.

"We're looking forward to presenting many proficiency certificates this year," said Mrs. Rigos. The awarding of the certificates began last year, and marked advanced achievement in business education and distributive education. "It's like minoring in business while in high school," she added.

Students must meet stringent requirements before being awarded the certificates at the end of the year. Although some awards were given last year, Mrs. Rigos said a great deal more would be presented at the close of the '75-'76 school year.

Mrs. Turlington was out for seven weeks following the birth of her son Tyler on October 13, 1975. Future Business Leaders of America held a surprise shower for her, calling her to a "faculty meeting" during her leave of absence.

Mrs. Rigos created a new class for the spring trimester, office procedures II. The first four weeks were spent in exploration of the various secretarial and clerical fields. The second four weeks involved the steps of searching for, applying for, and interviewing for a job. And the final four weeks were spent studying the human relations aspect of employment, and the personality requirements of specific secretarial and clerical careers.

"The new library promises to be an improvement towards better education for all students," commented Mrs. Inge Ricker, head librarian. Remodeling created a single library-resource center containing audio-visual aids as well as books.

Better book control and better access to all materials is a carefully planned feature of the new library arrangement. The entire school will benefit from the more pleasant surroundings and quieter atmosphere.

Students assisted in moving books to the temporary library, located in the previous resource center. Construction began in October with a February completion date. Students again assisted in the complicated work of moving all resources back into the new library.

Mr. Loewe's Shakespeare class is an active group in extracurricular activities. In spring of '75, ten students traveled to Ashland, Oregon, to see the Shakespearean Theatre.

The plays The Petrified Forest, Oedipus, And Charlie's Aunt were viewed. Five more plays Henry VI Part I, All's Well That Ends Well, Romeo and Juliet, The Winter's Tale, and Long Day's Journey Into The Night, were seen in August after money raising projects paid for the trip.

The English department sponsored a trip to Seattle. There, Eisenhower students enjoyed seeing "Cyrano de Bergerac," (a man famous for his valor and protruding nose) performed by the Seattle Repertory Theater.

Later in the Winter trimester, English students went again to view the Repertory. This time the company presented "Seven Keys to Bald Pate," a thoroughly entertaining mystery spoof.

A new system for improving and correcting writing skills was put into effect late in the year. Each teacher was given a recorder and each student a tape. The student submitted a paper and then the teacher gave advice and corrections about it on the tape.

After receiving the tape, the student rushed to the library where he listened to the teacher's suggestions. After hearing the tape, he made the neccessary corrections on his paper, resubmitted it, and then had the paper graded.

New to Eisenhower, Mr. Baisinger took the position of teaching prep band, Cadet Choir, Lancers, guitar, and prep choir. Under his direction, Lancers and Choir entered a series of public performances, ranging from Christmas programs to Jazz Festivals.

Mr. Baisinger's main objective for the 1975-76 year was to expose his students to as many forms of music as possible. "There are a lot of talented people at Eisenhower," he commented, "and it's a real challenge and pleasure to work with them."

Music theory class was expanded by Mr. Cairns using new teaching techniques and having students write music for a variety of instruments. The band and orchestra also participated in a series of parades, concerts, ensembles, and games.

Mr. Cairns and Mr. Baisinger worked together with Mr. Poulin on the hit musical play "Oklahoma!" Mr. Cairns was in charge of all instrumental music in the play, while Mr. Baisinger directed all vocal music. Both worked well together and added a lot to the production.

Three trimester program

A three-trimester program began this year for all students starting in any one of the four foreign languages offered at Ike. For a year's credit in, for example, Spanish, a student takes the class for an entire year rather than the previous two trimesters and concludes the year having completed Spanish 3.

The program was adapted to give students a stronger background in foreign language as they continue through school.

This program applies to all students enrolled in Spanish, German, French and Latin, the foreign languages offered at Eisenhower.

Spending many long hours after school assisting students this year were the teachers of Eisenhower's Math Department.

Class offerings in math ranged from practical math, a class designed to help students complete mathematical problems encountered in the ususal day, to calculus, a college-level course offered to those with a high aptitude and interest in advanced math.

Practical and technical math, fundamental and review algebra, along with algebra 1, 2, and 3 were offered on an A/Pass-Fail option, enabling students to take these classes without hurting their G.P.A.'s. The advanced classes, however, were not afforded these options; for the purpose of college preparation, grades were given in these classes.

Transformation of Drivers'

Drivers' education underwent a transformation of its program. This latest change involves ten major units, each consisting of one driving experience and four learning experiences.

Each learning experience contains four tests, giving the student three more chances to pass the exam. When the student has passed the test, he may automatically move to the next learning experience.

Co-education promises big changes in P.E. Some classes involved in this program include intermediate tennis and golf classes and the gymnastics program.

During October and through February, the resource center temporarily housed the library while the old library was completely stripped to contain, not only literature, but also visual resources.

New Lab Child Experience

The infant school lab experience program was offered for the first time at Ike under the careful guidance of Mrs. Meryl Fishback in cooperation with Yakima Valley College. The concept of the lab features students working with infants and their parents, learning and preparing for the many aspects of parenthood.

"This program is tremendously worthwhile for Eisenhower," stated Mrs. Fishback. "It enlightens students as to what is involved in raising children, and it prepares them for parenthood and family planning, something which is really needed in our society."

The parents and children come to Ike while taking a family life parenting course at Yakima Valley College. Shirley Herrud, supervising that course, commented, "The students at Eisenhower have shown a great enthusiasm for the program. The parents of children also enjoy the program and have received many benefits from it."

Bicentennial year at Ike

Eisenhower's Bicentennial year has been characterized as one of change. The three counselors divided their attention by alphabetical division, giving each counselor an equal number of students.

Students are encouraged to seek personal advice from the counselor with whom they have the best relationship, yet any school matters are best taken to the counselor appropriately designated by alphabet.

This new system allows quick aid to more students. The counselors agree that it has brought them closer as a team, and working together gives each student the help he deserves. It takes pressure off a counselor who used to be in charge of a 500 member class. They now have equal amount of students, and can reach them more effectively. More meaningful contact with the students can take place, and each counselor knows information needed for each of the three Eisenhower classes.

The reorganization of the counselors parallels the regular meetings of administrators who assemble weekly to plan responsibilities.

Mr. Mark Bontrager commented, "To walk the halls of Eisenhower will graphically display elements of change through sight and touch. The remodeled west wing and library bring an inspiring new look to our building. Not necessarily change yet very welcome at any high school campus is the very positive, productive attitude of a large group of Ike students.

"High achievement, job acquisition, firm preparation for college, typifies activities of the Eisenhower students. Success or failure has been important, but not so much as the emphasis on how one performs.

"Our students are the heart of the beginning of the next hundred years of success change in America.

ACTIVITY

Ostrander to Nationals;

Taking a first place competing in Girls' Extemperaneous speaking at the State Forensics Tournament, Elaine Ostrander became the first person from Eisenhower to attend a national debate tournament.

Ostrander's achievement was especially rare, considering this was her first year of competition. Coach Thomas Kuykendall treated her to a steak dinner in honor of her accomplishment.

Seven seniors, comprising over half of the debate team, participated regularly for Eisenhower at tournaments throughout the Pacific Northwest. Among these seniors, N.F.L. chapter president Greg Butler was swing on the three-man team that finished first at district and went to state.

Butler also took first in both Impromptu and Extemperaneous at district and fifth in Boys' Extemperaneous speaking at the same tournament that qualified Ostrander for nationals; these awards culminated Butler's third year debate for Ike.

Active debate teams throughout the majority of the season were; Greg Butler and Ron Weingarten, Jim Thompson and Tony Soper, Mike Jessup and Elaine Ostrander.

Other team members included: Pat Ballew, Steve Rosandich, Steve Cook, Tom Huard, Bill Kosten, Salli Geisert, Brian Kerns, and Scott Wonder.

The individuals above toiled many hours attempting to raise funds for the debate effort as the impact of inflation and a corresponding budget cut hit the team at the same time. Personal expenditures averaged about thirty dollars a trip for each debater with the student making up the difference of expenses of seven tournaments during the year. Active debaters spent over two hundred dollars of their own funds in travel expenses alone.

In order to meet the tremendous costs involved in color pages, Reveille sponsored a number of fundraising activities. The first aftergame dance and Winter Tolo got the staff into the fund-raising spirit.

Two movies, "Ladies & Gentlemen, The Rolling Stones," and "Anne of a Thousand Days," brought the full-color graduates closer to a reality. The Friday morning doughnut sales were the finishing touches for the budget.

Reveille has been inspired both by the new productions room (built after the fire) they occupy and by the Bicentennial spirit. The staff chose to relax from their busy schedule at the Yakima Valley Museum to show their Bicentennial spirit.

Five Star Journal changes

With a new advisor, room, and equipment, the Five Star Journal staff produced a paper of a quality previously unknown to Eisenhower since the school first started nearly twenty years ago.

Running both the paper and yearbook at once, Mrs. Rebecca Scholl was under great pressure to see that both classes met their deadlines on time. Five Star was housed in a new "productions" room built after the old one was firedamaged, and was published using professional printing techniques.

The school bid for and purchased an IBM composer, capable of typing finished newspaper copy. It features an 8000-character memory bank and automatic correcting of mistakes. The total cost of the composer was about $9000; it will have paid for itself by about 1978.

Under the direction of advisor and editors, new, different and more student-oriented material went into the Five Star Journal. Interschool news was given top priority, informing students of events relating directly to them.

Mr. James Smith, photo production's colorful instructor, proved himself to be an informative and dedicated teacher. When questioned, Mr. Smith laughingly proclaimed, "Teaching photo productions is a hair-raising experience. I don't know if there's a record of a teacher running away from school, but I'm threatening!"

Despite the fun and informal atmosphere which is completely evident in the photo room, the photographers are a highly productive and well-organized group.

This is the first time in many years that the N.H.S. tapping has been held before all students. In past years it was held in the Little Theater before ticket only audiences.

After spring tapping the National Honor Society proudly hails 84 members. Next year's National Honor Society will start the year with the 21 juniors that were tapped in the spring of this year.

Band's many faces provide

Practice was the main word in the vocabulary of band members. Hours upon hours of practice, some during class time, some outside, were required to maintain quality in the many performances of the Ike band.

Eisenhower's band is composed of several sub-division: Concert, Marching, and Pep Bands, as well as band members who participated in the musical orchestra and two features—Flag Team and Guitar Ensemble. Many members took part in two or more of these divisions, showing a real sense of dedication.

Cadet Marching Band performed at home football games and the Yakima Sunfair Band-O-Rama, where they placed second over-all. Parades were also a major undertaking, with the band participating in the following: Ellensburg Rodeo, Yakima Sunfair, Veteran's Day, Christmas Festival, Apple Blossom, Abbotsford International Band Festival, and Memorial Day Parades.

Fall and Christmas Music Festivals and the All-City Spring Music Festival were the major performances of Concert Band.

Traveling to Pullman, the Pep Band played at the WSU vs. Stanford basketball game. Later in the year they played in Wenatchee for our own basketball game, as they also did for all home games and pep assemblies.

It's said there's a first time for everything, and this was the first year for Ike's Flag Team. Twelve spirited girls twirled red and white flags perched on eight-foot poles, adding not on only color, but an element of style to the marching band.

A new class offered at Ike, Guitar Ensemble, developed into a performing group. These advanced guitar students played contemporary music for area grade schools, nursing homes, and ladies' groups.

Sustained quality of performance gained

The 1975-76 Eisenhower chamber orchestra was small in number but highly gifted with musicianship. The orchestra performed in two concerts during fall and winter trimesters before the class was closed due to its small number.

Steve and Peter Soos and Brian Kerns were selected to participate in the All State Select Orchestra. Hundreds of applications for this distinction were received from the entire state.

Eisenhower is looking forward to a larger group next year although even with the small amount of members for this year, the nucleus of the group was very talented.

The members of the 1976 orchestra include Peter Soos, Terry Rosenkranz and Sandy Gayken on violin, Steve Soos on bass, Michele Thompson and Ruth Roady playing flute, Brian Kerns on the horn and Carole Franklin on clarinet.

U.S.E. Cabinet involved

The U.S.E. Cabinet discovered themselves in the midst of a controversy due to a spring over-expenditure in athletics. Because of this problem, the funds supplied to other school-related activities were cut drastically during tense closed-door budget sessions with help from Mr. Nicholas.

Considering the fact that this dilemma severely hampered disbursement of funds, U.S.E. added a new item and attempted to assist the Reveille with five hundred dollars financial support in light of the special bicentenial issue.

Parlimentary procedure was adopted by the Cabinet at the beginning of the year; this was later abandoned due to nonproductivity at meetings. An impressive drive to sell U.S.E. cards to Cadets was a major undertaking during the first trimester.

The cabinet included seniors; president, Ron Weingarten; vice-president, Carrie Thomas; secretary, Kelly Cox; and treasurer, Vicki Adams. Mr. Gary Baisinger heads choir dept.

The Choir performed fall, winter, and Christmas concerts for students and parents. They also performed with the Spokane Symphony in the Davis Auditorium, and in the All City Music Festival held in the Ike Gymnasium in May.

Exchange concerts were held with Davis and Curtis High of Tacoma. In this exchange, the Davis and Curtis High choirs performed at Eisenhower, and the Eisenhower choir performed at Davis and Curtis High. The Curtis High trip was an overnighter that all the choir members thoroughly enjoyed.

Mr. Baisinger commented, "I feel the choir made great strides this year." He also said he felt that, by the end of the year, the choir had a really terrific sound.

Lancers perform at various events,

The busy Lancers' fall activities included the N.H.S. tapping and singing for various clubs and organizations in Yakima.

In the winter months several members played in the smash hit musical, "Oklahoma!" After the musical, Lancers traveled with the Cadet Choir to perform in Tacoma.

Yakima's junior highs and other district schools received performances. The Lancers also competed in a jazz contest in Gresham, Oregon. Besides the traditional pop songs, Lancers tried jazz and other styles.

The Davis Die Meister singing group and the Lancers enjoyed joint cooperation which resulted in learning experiences for both groups.

This group is to be heartily commented for generously donating their time and talent.

Drill Team receives superior rating at

Not only receiving a superior rating in state, the Hi-Steppers also achieved 44.5 points out of a maximum of 50 in competition against schools such as Davis, Kent, West Valley, Wentachee and other schools throughout Washington.

Many fund-raising projects were sponsored by all members. A pie-in-the-face contest was held with Mr. Fred Newman receiving a banana cream pie, zestily delivered by Mrs. Valerie Rigos. Senior Kelly Greene's pie was composed of whipped cream and limburger cheese. Th traditional Father-Daughter Dance, "My Heart Belongs to Daddy," and the annual spring Tolo, "Sunshine, Lollipops and Rainbows," produced fond memories for all who attended.

Other activities included football and basketball half-times, and the Ellensburg, Sunfair, Christmas, Memoral and Shrine parades. During basketball season, the Drill Team, accompanied by pep band, performed at half-time at the Stanford-W.S.U. game. Hi-Steppers also traveled to Moscow, Idaho, receiving first place in parade competition.

Red and Blue cheerleader squads utilize

Voting last year decided to have six girls in two separate cheer groups having less work for those involved and better chance for more girls to be selected.

Especially winter season, too many sports utilized cheerleaders, yet all athletics deserved cheer support. Consequently, red and blue squads were formed. Sports were divided up, and each girl purchased one uniform, which cut down on expenses.

Red squad, cheerleading for football, wrestling, and track, were Fran Jaeger, Jan Harris, Jackie Stotle, Kim Fluegge, Pam Pierce, Julie Lemke. These girls raised money for their trip to state for wrestling. Blue squad, cheering for cross country, basketball and baseball, were Barb Wane, Terri Riley, Camille Jensen, Julie Eckel, Kim Carson, and Nicki Byers. They sold ribbons featuring spirited slogans, adding to the excitement of crowds prior to and during games.

By adding another squad, the girls were able to support girls' athletics. The new system proved useful and fair. The public and girls enjoyed the two squads.

Quill and Scroll is an honorary club composed of students in the two journalism classes, Five-Star Journal and Reveille. After eight years of inactivity, the club was revived through the efforts of Mrs. Rebecca Scholl and especially active journalism class members. Among their many activities include participation in a joint meeting of Eisenhower and Davis Quill and Scroll members and raising funds to buy Quill and Scroll pins. The club also published a collection of Eisenhower students' creative writing in the spring.

A field trip to Leavenworth got the German Club off to a lively start October 4. Other activities included a progressive German dinner in December and a skating party in January financially supported by bake sales. Mr. Ben Van Eaton advised the group.

One of Eisenhower's larger clubs is GALES, composed of girls who have earned varsity or JV letters during the year. Led by advisor Miss Carol Finney, GALES held a rummage sale that supported a trip to Seattle to see a Sonics game.

Pep Club, one of Ike's most involved clubs, held a welcoming tea in September to discuss tentative plans for the year. Their first major project was organizing Homecoming activities, climaxing with the Homecoming Dance October 18. Girls from all three classes got together to plan, advertise, and decorate for the well-executed dance. Other activities included sign painting for sports activities, organizing rooter buses, and supplying pep at assemblies, as well as at games. Mrs. Diane Treat was the advisor.

Traffic Control force was headed by Jay Templin and advised by Mr. George Carlson. The main activities of this group are maintaining safe school crossings before and after school, directing traffic, and assisting parking cars at the school grounds during football and basketball games. "The new light at 44th and Tieton has helped a lot this year," Jay affirmed.

Eisenhower Trailblazers

The Trailblazers, Eisenhower's hiking club, hiked over 45 miles. Many of the hikes were overnight, and students had to provide their own transportation and equipment. Along with overnight hikes, club members also took a field trip to a recreational co-op in Seattle where some members bought equipment for the biggest event of the club, a climb of Mt. Adams.

"Drama Club provided a forum for the many Ike students interested in drama to exchange ideas about acting and related activities," commented Rodger Scheibner, club president. Many drama club members attended seminars on acting provided for students throughout the year, and several worked on, and acted in, the school productions "Charley's Aunt" and "Oklahoma."

Karate Club expanded greatly by offering classes to anyone interested in the martial arts, regardless of whether or not they attended Eisenhower. "At one point," said club president Dan Miner, "we had more graduates and people from other schools taking classes than students at Ike." Instructors were Larry Olson and his wife Kim, both high-ranking "black-belts" in the Doshinkan style of Karate.

Scuba Club started its second year with a series of new and different diving experiments, the most unusual being an underwater monopoly game at the Y.M.C.A. pool. The biggest activity the group participated in, however, was their second annual diving trip to the San Juan Islands during spring vacation.

Photo Club kept busy throughout the year by holding monthly photo contests from photography done by club members. Another activity was going to St. Elizabeth's Hospital radiology lab to look at career possibilities. The main event of the club for the year was a field trip to Seattle Center to view a photography show by Ansel Adams. The trip was made possible from donut sales in the east foyer.

VICA Club had various work days throughout the year on which the members learned how to run a different machine each time. This year the club learned how to rebuild an engine. Most of their time was spent working on teachers' and students' cars.

The functions of the Special Aides Club (SPADES) is different from others in that their purpose is caring for elderly people in Yakima. Their main business is being companions to senior citizens at nursing homes and throughout the community.

Medical Careers Club had a fantastic turnout for their annual blood drawing held in the cafeteria; 116 pints of blood were given in total by Ike students and faculty. The turnout was so overwhelming that some donors had to be turned away because of limited facilities. The club had various bake sales to raise money for the spring trip to the University of Washington Medical Center.

Art Guild started the year helping at the Central Washington State Fair, watching professional and amateur art exhibits. Other activities included an evening at the Pumpernickel viewing art work at Studio 10 Gallery, and raising money for the trip to Seattle in the spring. Eighty students visited museums, the Pike Street Market, and the University district.

FFA Club worked at the fair. Members had an exhibit which they set up themselves. At Christmas time the club helped Toys for Tots repair old toys. In the spring, the group sponsored donkey basketball in the gym.

FBLA stimulates activities

Led by Mrs. Valerie Rigos, Future Business Leaders of America proved to be very active. FBLA'ers hosted a baby shower for Mrs. Judy Turlington and held the second annual typathon, raising $500. FBLA sold Spook Insurance for Halloween, carnations for Valentine's Day, roses for Mother's Day, caroled at local rest homes, and sponsored a benefit dance for the March of Dimes. State conference was held April in Tumwater where individual and group honors were awarded.

Distributive Education Club of America provides leadership and unity for members enrolled in advanced distributive education class. DECA promotes advertising for football and basketball games and operates the bookstore. DECA attended regional and state career conferences February in Chelan and March in Richland. Purpose was to compete for individual and group recognition. DECA prepared Christmas baskets, hosted an employee/employer banquet, and took a field trip to Seattle.

One of Ike's newest clubs, Botany, began very successfully. President Shawna Gandy declared, "We're working towards understanding our environment." Botany took field trips throughout Washington to observe various plants and flowers in the forest regions. Botany also spent time improving Ike's campus. To raise money for their field trips, Botany held bake sales.

Ushers kept themselves involved with activities at Ike by seating people for fall play and musical. Ushers hosted visitors to the school and guest teachers during the college conference. Members wear blue and white uniforms.

French club raised money during the year by holding bake sales. Money earned went towards a progressive dinner. The dinner featured French cuisine and was held at several club members' homes.

Lettermen donate video tape

The Lettermen, under direction of Mr. Lee White, were very active this year. Their single, two year project was to buy a 1,700 dollar video-tape machine. This extremely useful acquisition is used to film various sports events, giving participants a chance to determine specific points needing improvement.

Payments for the new machine are to be made over a two-year period. Money for these payments was raised by sponsoring several different events. Some of these were a Harlem Clowns basketball game, a KMWX Superstars game, and a dance.

Lettermens' Club officers for this year are: Glenn Ford-President, Glen Phillips-Vice President, and Gale Coston-Secretary.

The Chess Club gave interested Ike students an opportunity to exercise their minds in the logic necessary for success at chess. Under the direction of Mr. Plumb, the chess club members participated in two matches against Davis. Eisenhower defeated Davis in both of these competitions. Tentative plans were made for a third match with Davis and an all valley tournament with Ike, Davis, and Carroll.

The Spanish Club, advised by Señor McClure, held regular monthly meetings throughout the year. The club organized several Spanish oriented activities, such as a Fiesta de Navidad, and a progressive dinner.

Bicentennial class promotes spirit of

To promote Bicentennial spirit, the Bicentennial class produced a book entitled "From Ferguson To. . ." The book dealt with Yakima Valley's past and emphasized little-known facts about its history. Students dedicated much time and effort to research facts for the book. The books sold for $1 each, which covered the cost of printing. Money for financing the publication was also raised through the sale of suckers.

The Bicentennial class also showed a great deal of participation in the community by its involvement in the reopening of the Yakima Valley Museum. After its remodeling, one show case was left vacant. Bicentennial members moved in and created a display for the years 1900 - 1920 entitled "Picnicking at Soda Springs." At the reopening of the museum, the class participated by ushering.

To discuss and promote their Bicentennial projects, Kelly Cox and Scott Wonder appeared on KAPP T.V. on the program entitled "Around Town."

Advisor for the class was Mrs. Jane Schwab. Her dedication to the class was appreciated and was missed when she took leave of absence to deliver a 9 pound baby boy, May 7.

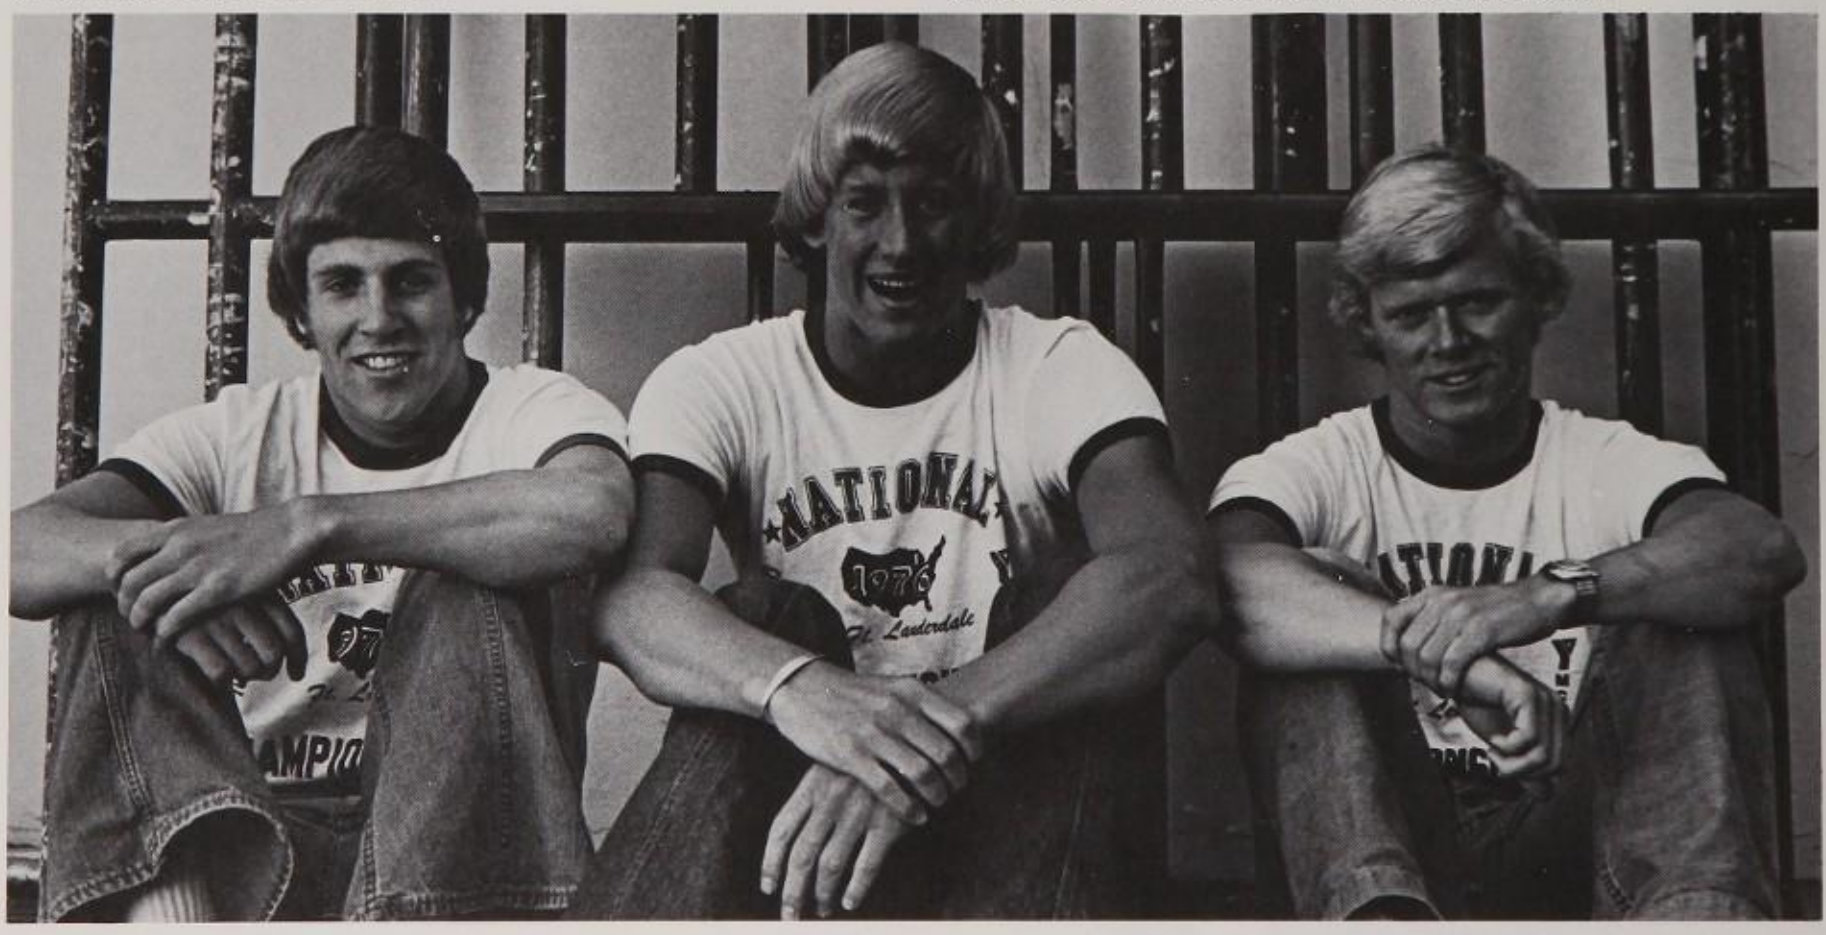
Mary Vandiver, one of the most active girls at Ike, won several awards. She was chosen as "girl of the year" by the Altrusa Club; as a flutist, Mary placed 2nd in the Young Artists Competition. She also is an honor student and active in track and field.

Chris Bordeaux, member of Yakima Swim Team, qualified for the National AAU Indoor Long Course Swim Meet Championships during the early spring. As a long distance swimmer, she has an "unorthadox stroke, but it seems to do the trick," stated Kyle Braden.



Mike Roether, Brian McGuire, and Roger Coburn, members of YMCA Swim Team, attended YMCA Nationals in Fort Lauderdal, Florida. Competing in the Swimming Hall of Fame, the three swam in the 100 back, 100 fly relays, and others. Coburn placed 3rd in the 200 fly and 13th in the 50 free; McGuire placed 8th and 9th in the 100 and 200 back respectively.

Hospitality committee greets students

The new idea of a Hospitality Committee was orginated by the Sophomore Council. Twenty-five students made up the committee. This group of students welcomed new students who transferred to Eisenhower from other high schools.

Setting their budget goal at $1,000, the Class of '78 started the year with a carmel apple sale. Several students gathered the night before to make numerous batches, turning the chore into a party.

Other money-making projects included were a pop sale, where over 200 cans were sold, and a light bulb sale held in the cold month of February.

Elections were held in the fall. Sophomores chose Jeff Waldbauer as president; Ron Peterson, vice-president; Kathy Peterson, secretary; and Jean Marking, treasure.

Vice president; Ron Peterson, president; Jeff Waldbauer, secretary; Kathy Peterson, and treasurer; Jean Marking represent their fellow members of the sophomore class.

Juniors raise over $450 on Radio Day

Organization through a committee composed of representative juniors marked preparations for money-raising projects. Junior-senior prom, next year's senior luncheon, and the customary senior gift were supported by popcorn and bake sales, after-game dances, and other projects.

A radio day, with students selling a day's worth of advertising, was also planned, and much time was spent by students organizing it as a fund-raising project.

With a base cost of $700 to sponsor the prom, traditional gift to departing seniors, juniors worked consistently throughout the year assisted by Mr. Jim Connor, junior counselor.

Class of "76" chooses all student

Changes in traditions of graduation were initiated this year. Three seniors were selected by the Senior Committee to speak at graduation. Interested students wrote their speeches, which had to be five minutes in length, then recited them in front of the Committee. The Committee later chose the best three speeches.

The senior class also voted to dispose of the usual navy blue graduation gowns and replace them with bright blue and red. A bicentennial formation could then be formed at graduation ceremonies on June 8.

Each senior anxiously awaited graduation. While sophomores, they labored at car washes to raise money for Prom. In junior year, popcorn sales were the craze. Then, finally seniors, the class of '76 could sit back and relax.

Cheerleader Nicki Byers displays school enthusiasm during spirit week.

At Father-Daughter Dance, father Mr. Richard Eckel appears to be kept busy by two senior girls, daughter Julie and Carolyn Bostic.

After six months of work

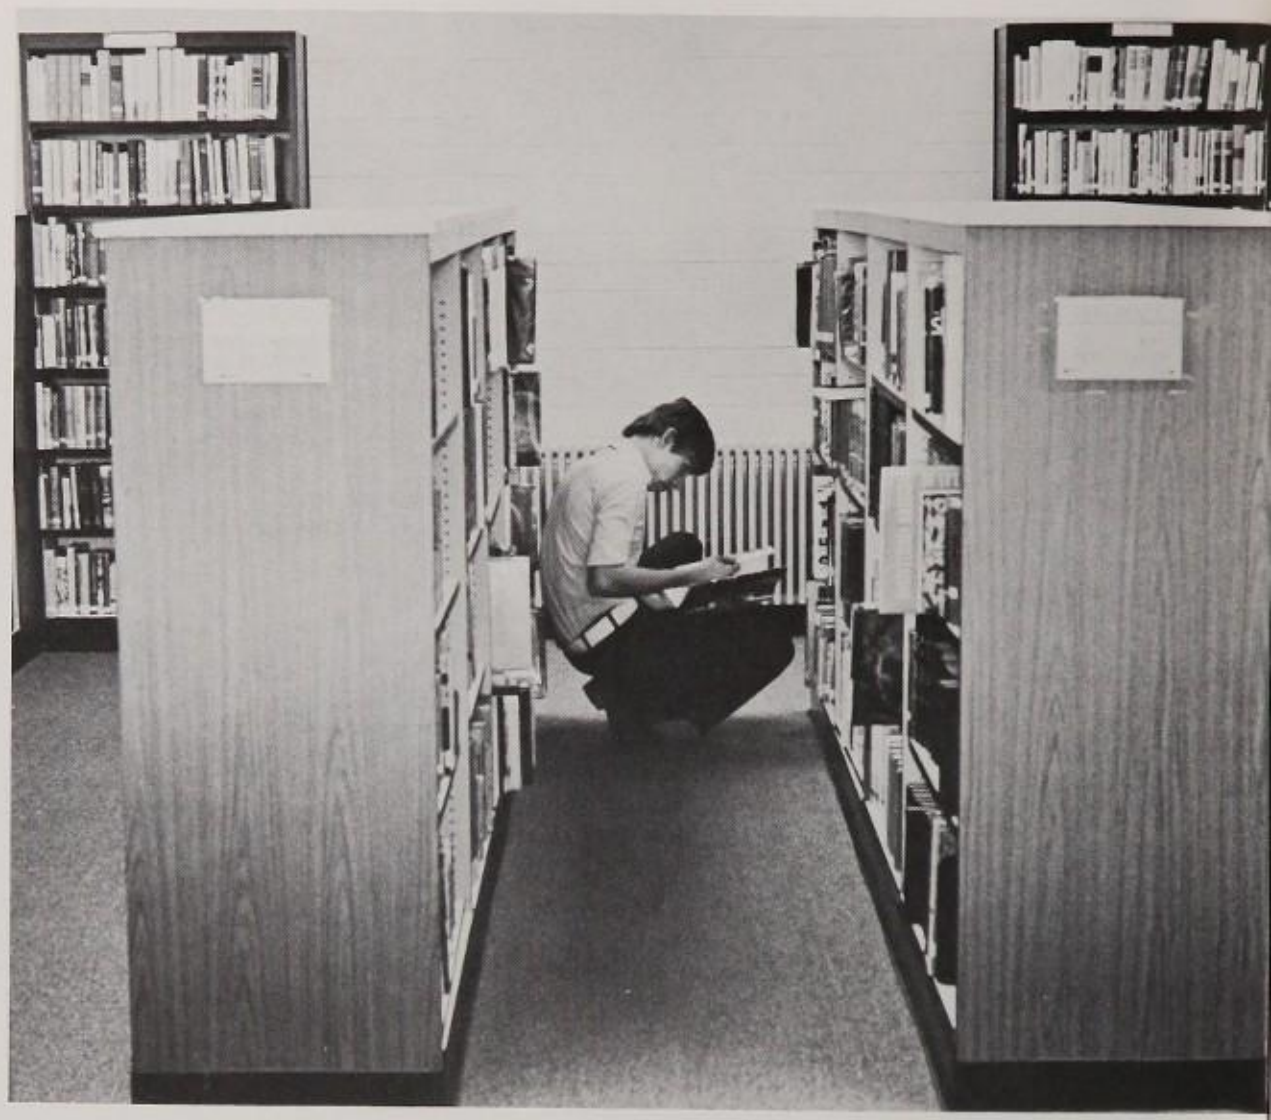
The fire of March 2, 1975, caused extensive damage to portions of the building such as the resource center, Five-Star Journal room, Reveille room, and A-V center.

Through the course of the '76 school year these rooms were rebuilt to meet modern standards of excellence. Upstairs Reveille and Five-Star rooms were changed into one, known as the productions room.

Downstairs, resource and A-V centers were developed into a large multipurpose meeting area.

In September the library was moved into the newly furnished resource center and work began on remodeling and rebuilding the old library.

New facilities were enstalled in the library, such as a check-out system for tape recorders and film strip machines. A new system for checking out books was also devised using U.S.E. cards.



An interested student goes through various research materials looking for report items.

Mrs. Dorothy Barton casually thumbs through a magazine to check it for articles of interest labeled in the Readers Guide.

Reveille dedicated to two fine teachers

It was unanimously decided by the Reveille staff that the dedication be shared by Geneva Renn and Rebecca Scholl. Both have given a great deal to their classes and students.

Mrs. Renn is a devoted teacher and inspires her students to better achievements. She gives a little something extra to each student. She has taught at Eisenhower for many years and is an asset to the school. Her interests include music, art, and literature. Despite serious health problems, Mrs. Renn has struggled valiantly and remained involved in her teaching.

The Reveille staff of 1976 wishes to express their extreme appreciation to Mrs. Rebecca Scholl for her long and hard work with the Reveille and Five Star Journal. Not many people realize all the worry and extra hours during school and after school that she has spent. She leaves for a position as curriculum coordinator between the two high schools and junior highs.

Mrs. Rebecca Scholl instructs one of her students, Kathy Fohn, during productions class.

Baccalaureate held at Holy Family

The annual event of Baccalaureate was held in Holy Family and attended by many parents and friends. To highlight the service, the Cadet choir performed some inspiring songs. They were, "Song of Moses," "The Lord's Prayer," "America The Beautiful," "Jubilant Song," and to round it off, "Let There Be Peace on Earth." Also three members of the Cadet band played "Trumpet Voluntary" as graduates entered and left the church in slow procession.

Theme of the Baccalaureate was on the Bicentennial Year, "We are the Reflections of our Heritage ... The Inspiration of our Future." The Rev. John A. Ecker gave the welcome and invocation as well as the benediction and dismissal. The Rev. Howard F. Childers spoke on the topic "We are the Reflections of our Heritage," while Mr. Pennebaker spoke on "We are the Inspiration of our Future ...

Rev. John Ecker steps out during service to show sign of peace with graduate Larry Lancaster.

Senior Luncheon

Senior Luncheon was marked by a bit of hilarity as senior Doug Andrews prepared to sing his rendition of Elton John's "Your Song" wearing a false nose and plastic glasses. To the relief of all, however, he ended up singing the song without his disguise.

Outstanding musical entertainment by Doug and seniors Nicki Byers and Heidi Lewis highlighted the affair held on June 7 at the Masonic Temple. Later in the program juniors Shelley Cartier and Scott Lewis gave a polished, nostalgic tribute to the seniors entitled "Remember When?"

The senior gift to the school was announced at the luncheon. Three paintings produced by some of Yakima's most outstanding artists, including Mr. Earl Wiuff and Mr. Chuck Naasz of the Eisenhower staff, were happily presented to the newly remodeled library.

All Night Party

Filled with a mixture of relief and exhilaration, the seniors of the class of 1976 filed into the YMCA to celebrate with an All-Night Party supposedly lasting from 10:30 p.m. to 3 a.m.

Entertainment was provided by the Raggband. A buffet of cold cuts and other foods was set up for hungry seniors, while enthusiastic parents ran the ice cream fountain. The athletic aspect of the party was not forgotten, either, as facilities were available for swimming, playing handball, and playing basketball. Mr. Jack Nicholas remarked afterwards, "The game rooms were wall-to-wall kids."

Though the students were looking forward to the future, they were also reminded of the past. The photo department blew up several first and fifth grade pictures from various elementary schools in the valley of the graduating class.

Graduating seniors gather at Senior Luncheon, welcomed by excellent entertainment and food.

Senior Luncheon and All-Night Party

Senior Scott Doyle places the eight ball as Tony Soper aims with his racquet.

Shelley Cartier and Scott Lewis read "Remember When?"

Wayne Ginter and other spectators stand enthralled with football game in which Greg Butler, Kris Keutzmann, and Patty Kirkwood are involved.

Scott Wonder and Pam Brandeen direct

Student speakers Scott Wonder and Pam Brandeen presented stimulating speeches on the commencement theme "We Are the Reflections of Our Heritage; The Inspiration of Our Future" to a very "festive" and enthusiastic audience. This was a change from past commencement procedure of having a distinguished adult guest speaker.

"It was really great, they got the audience involved with them," commented sophomore Lori Vaughn about the well-delivered student speeches. Faculty reaction was also extremely enthusiastic about continuing with student speakers in future years.

Dr. W. Dean Starr welcomed students, parents, and guests, followed by Ron Weingarten leading the flag salute. Salli Geisert gave the opening invocation, followed by the student speakers.

Musical entertainment for the occasion was provided by the Cadet Choir and the Lancers, along with the Cadet Band's presentation of the traditional "Pomp and Circumstance" during the procession.

Dr. Dale Miller and Mrs. Robert Yost awarded the diplomas.

The graduating Class of '76 file to their seats with assistance from junior Neil Romney.

In the moment for which they have all been waiting, the senior class stands proudly in attention in view of the American flag before them.

Class of '76 in commencement exercises

Tom Kennedy gives the benediction and dismissal.

Nancy Rogers, Dorinda Watson, Diane Rowell, and Loretta Watson, first in line of procession, eagerly anticipate receiving their diplomas.
